With a D*D* diploma in Media Production, I am a highly driven person with a solid academic background that includes noteworthy GCSE and A-level results. Capable of handling the Adobe suite and Microsoft Office, I have a variety of experience working as a freelance videographer, customer service advisor and salesman. I bring a combination of creativity, technical know-how, and a proactive work ethic to any professional situation. I am now pursuing a degree in Media Production at the University of the West of England and am in my third and final year.
